DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5, 7, and 12-16, drawn to a process of applying a label to a food container, classified in class 426, subclass 383.
 - II. Claim 6 and 8, drawn to a method of placing a label or tattoo on a hand, classified in class 283, subclass 67.
 - III. Claims 9-10, drawn to a label, classified in class 283, subclass 81.
 - IV. Claim 11, drawn to a partitioned bowl, classified in class 220, subclass 575.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination of group I as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the process of group I does not require placing a tattoo or label on a hand as in the subcombination of group II. The subcombination of group II has separate utility such as a method of conveying information not related to a food container, for instance a decorative label or tattoo.

Art Unit: 1761

3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of group III as claimed can be used in a materially different process, for instance placing it on a hand.

4. Inventions I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to a to a method of applying a label to a food container, and a partitioned bowl.

5. Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of group III as claimed can be used in a materially different process, for instance placing it on a food container.

6. Inventions II and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to a method of applying a label to a hand, and a partitioned bowl.

7. Inventions III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to an adhesive label, and a partitioned bowl.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for group I is not required for group II, which is not required for group III, which is not required for group IV; restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

10. A telephone call was made to Linda Gould on September 25, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
